^ R K

The people of ARK have a distinguished history in the furniture industry, well known for their tireless dedication to design, quality and service. Many of the people who embody this spirit of excellence have been together at ARK for more than twenty years. We are a collection of dedicated and talented people who believe that a life's work must provide, along with the obvious financial reward, a sense of personal achievement.

We continue to search for new ways to improve ourselves, our products and our services so that we may better serve our clients. In today's rapidly changing office environment we are aggressively pursuing alternative environmental friendly materials and design solutions. ARK is continually striving for innovation in technology and design, while adhering to high quality manufacturing standards using superior craftsmanship and materials.

ARK has a simple credo: To provide the highest level of design, quality and service to our clients. ARK's manufacturing approach is to keep our designs flexible, our material options varied, and our lead times short so that we may better serve our clients needs. Our structure lets our customer's imagination define the boundaries of our abilities.

ARK responds to the challenges of the marketplace with standards of excellence at all levels: sound design, benchmark quality, and affordable prices. These are the things that will ensure our success and guarantee our future.

Quality is all we know;
quality is all we do.

Architectural Response
Kollection's focus on innovative design and scrupulous attention to detail is immediately apparent in all of our products.

Within each Kollection are desks, credenzas, workstations, freestanding and mobile pedestals, powered meeting tables, occasional tables and bookcases. Each offering has separate components that allow you to customize units to your particular specifications.

If you have any questions, please contact your local sales representative or call the factory. ARK's talented and dedicated people will always try to make your experience with us pleasing and beneficial.

HELIOS

Helios is a system of freestanding, lightly scaled office furniture designed for the flexible needs of the multifunctional office environment.

Today's office is not only smaller but often occupied, on a time sharing basis, by more than one person. The furniture must be able to be reconfigured quickly and easily to meet the needs of each user.

With independent towers, work surfaces, freestanding and mobile drawer pedestals, spanner shelves and many optional accessories, Helios presents a vast array of reconfiguring options.

The Helios table desks and auxiliary tables are available in many shapes and sizes. The auxiliary tables can have partially or fully castered legs to facilitate ease of configuration.

Each piece in the Helios Kollection has been meticulously detailed and finished to create dynamic harmonies with other Helios components.

Helios offers meeting tables with power and communication options. Helios has the full range of veneers and finishes available as in all of our products.

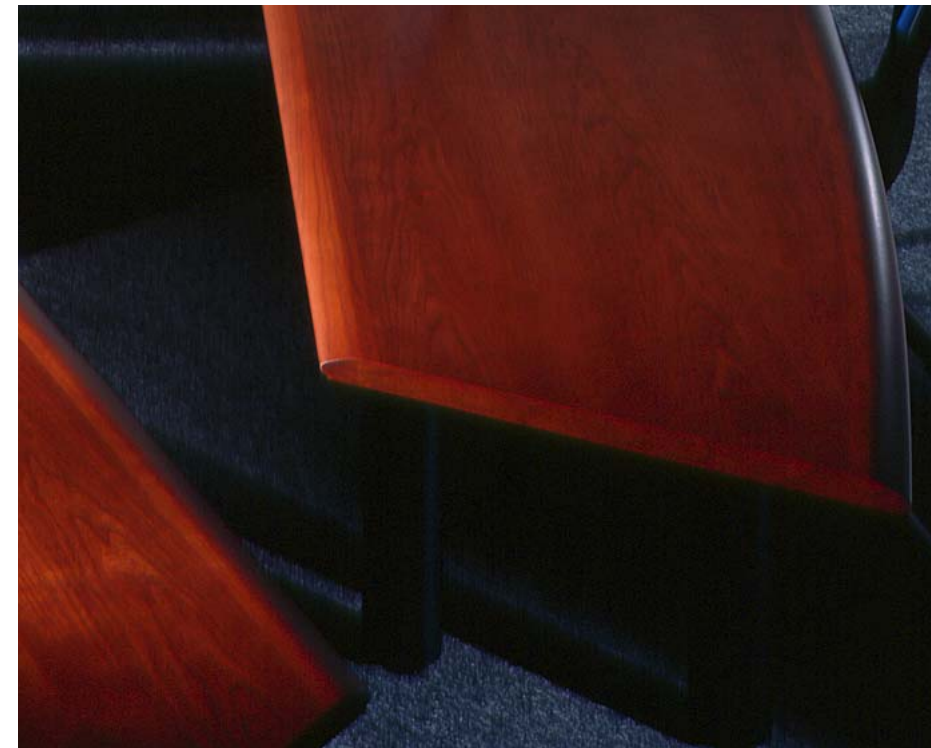

Helios is also offered with an MDF-edged plastic laminate top for all work surfaces where budget or high impact usage is a factor.
